ERRATUM

Please note: part of an article has inadvertently been omitted on the bottom of page two and top of page three, first column. The article, CES: #1 in Monthly Employment Information, should read, "The benchmark is used to verify employment trends in industries. The benchmark is one of the ways the CES staff maintains the accuracy of estimated employment and the soundness of its statistical procedures."